OCTOBER 5, 2009

1-day conference with...

DAVID HINGSBURGER,
of Toronto Canada

BACK BY POPULAR DEMAND...Mr. Hingsburger is a captivating speaker. Evaluations rated him "beyond excellent". He provides extensive training to family members, educators, service providers, and people with developmental disabilities. His presentations are of value to everyone involved with people who have developmental disabilities. Parents, educators, social workers, administrators, direct care staff and health care providers will benefit on a professional and personal level by hearing this gifted presenter. Mr. Hingsburger is internationally known for his work in the areas of: development of healthy relationships; prevention of abuse & victimization, including bullying & teasing; increasing self esteem & respect, as well as, responding to problem behaviors of people with developmental disabilities. Mr. Hingsburger is a lecturer, consultant and author of many books and videos. His work has guided our region's efforts to become "ABUSE FREE". In addition to the 1-Day session for parents and professionals, Dave will spend one day consulting with our many self-advocate "peer & staff" training teams.
